Foreword

It's a steep hill to climb, this arduous ascent to the summit — our becoming Seniors. It is filled with varied and lengthy assignments, worries, and numerous frustrations. But just when we appear ready to despair, the going seems to be made easier by the various activities we participate in along the way. The club meetings, rallies, and dances are as much a part of our high school years as the examinations. And when at last our goal is in sight and we reach the peak, our accomplishment becomes even more satisfying when we realize that our challenges have been offset by many enjoyable experiences.

We, the 1965 Torch Staff, have tried to recapture many of the events that have made our Senior year a memorable one, and we truly hope that we have succeeded.

Luck & Love to one of my "favorite children" — Shirley Hovanasian

Mrs. Hovanasian is one of the many outstanding faculty members at Tenney High School.

In addition to striving constantly to make her speech classes interesting and productive, she is also active in many areas of student life. But the one project for which the Seniors hold her dear is the production of their class play. Working with the cast, advising and supervising, she was instrumental in making our play the best ever presented.

With immeasurable pride we the 1965 Torch Staff dedicate this yearbook to Mrs. Hovanasian, who has given her time and her many talents to the student body of Tenney High.

No words can express the gratitude that I have in my heart for the fine young people who have made up the class of 1965. It has been, on the whole, a very enjoyable school family.

Success and happiness are my sincere wishes to the entire class.

The Queen and Her Court

February 26, 1965, was the date of the annual Military Ball. Among the honored at this gala event were Colonel and Commander of the Corps Charles Habeeb, Lieutenant Colonel and Executive Officer John Ramaska, Majors Joseph LeClair and Robert Hodge.

It was also the night that Patricia Langevin reigned as Cadet Queen. Her two attendants were Vicki Crawford and Virginia Amiss.

As usual, the Ball was a huge success, and it was enjoyed by all who attended.

Class History

by
Paula Goldblatt and John Ramaska

To the Ancient Mariner,
Wherever he may be,
We lovingly and fondly
Dedicate this history.

We are two ancient historians,
Who stoppeth all of thee
To tell the story of '65
And awaken your memory.

Tenney's doors were opened wide
And as freshman we all came in.
The classes met, the curriculum set;
May'st hear the merry din.

Captain Beaumont holds us with his age old talk,
"If you have an 'A' mind," quoth he,
"And you get 'C' marks—hold off! You're a graybeard loon!"
Eftsoons the orders dropped he.

At the Freshman Reception we stood with glittering eye,
The King and Queen stood still:
'Twas Carl Nicolosi and Gail Pollicella.
And the upperclassmen paid the bill!

The class cheered after the elections appeared
Merrily we did choose
President—Roddy Hodge, Vice President—Ken Auclair, Secretary—Rosalie Giordano, Treasurer—Vicki Crawford.
With them, how could we lose?

Our Student Council sat at a desk:
Pat Langevin and Barbara Blouin were two of the three
And the third was Kathy McRobbie.

The sun went down on one Friday.
And the Military Ball began,
The first big event for our cadets
And to it they all ran.

Harder and harder they practiced
Until Field Day at last arrived,
Chuck Habeeb, Joe Le Clair, and Bill Riley won the medals
Oh, how hard they strived!

At last the year had ended
And out of the halls we ran,
Nodding our heads and saying "good-bye"
On our way to the beach for a tan.

As sophomores we paced into the halls
Red as a rose were we.
President—Roddy Hodge, Vice President—Ken Auclair, Secretary—Rosalie Giordano, Treasurer—Karen Jones
Were chosen almost unanimously.

To the Student Council we did our best
To elect the finest three:
Barbara Blouin, Pat Langevin, and Rose Jabour
Worked quite satisfactorily.

And out for sports
Won't all who were inclined athletically
Football, basketball, baseball,
Track, softball, and field hockey

The Military Ball did come again
And to it we all went.
The girls looked tintillating and the fellows handsome:
The cadets in their uniforms and the other boys in the tuxes they did rent

And now there came the DAR
They didn't have to look very far,
For Arlene Blotner and John Ramaska were chosen.
Hurrah, hurrah, hurrah!

And through the spring the cheers did ring,
Karen Jones became a cheerleader and Judy Ingalls, a majorette.
"They'll be good," we said
That's a sure bet!

Once again it was Cadet Field Day
John Ramaska, Roddy Hodge, and Ron Dill did place.
And Mr. Morrisette looked on and said,
"Now they're marching at a double-time pace!"

Soon on the scene
The good old ring-man did appear.
He measured our fingers
For the rings we would get next year

At length came bobbin' a hep red robin
Through the green leaves it came.
"School's out!" was our rousing shout.
We're quite sure our sophomore year was not spent in vain!

We came back in September, 63
And elected our class officers four:
President—Dick Dyer, Vice President—Carl Nicolosi, Secretary—Rosalie Giordano, Treasurer—Karen Jones.
Now who could ask for more?

Council members, council members everywhere
And all the kids did cheer.
Jackie Guilmet, Judy Ingalls, Pat Langevin, Gerri Rickley
Represented us that year.

In October we cheered, "Our class rings are here!"
The ring man placed them in our anxious little paws.
We exclaimed, "How convivial
Our rings contain no flaws!"

The white snow flew, the cold wind blew
The girls were dressed to a "t".
It was the Military Ball in our Junior year.
Oh, what a sight to see!!

Alone, alone, all, all, alone
Alone with our Manter Hall.
Synonyms and antonyms everywhere
They really got our gall

In the merry, merry month of May
We had a pleasant suprise:
The DAR to Mike Mesrobian and Ann Findeisen went.
'Twas a very worthy prize.

Cheering and Majorette tryouts soon came and went
Karen Jones made the cheering team.
Judy Ingalls captained the majorettes
Under her were Jeanne Beshara, Joan Earnshaw, Rhonda Fleming, Nancy Lanctot, and Norma Slack.
My, these girls were certainly on the beam!

The Honor Society induction was a solemn affair
Planned and presented with much care.
The new members were Cynthia Alekel, Elaine Balcius, Jeanne Beshara, Arlene Blotner, Phyllis Chiarenza, Pat DePetrillo, Beverly Eaton, Mark Eaton, Ray Faeber, Maureen Ferris, Paula Goldblatt, Carol Holt, Kathy House, Judy Ingalls, Karen Nelda Krukonis, Elaine Lemieus, Judy Mlechko, Sheila Radulski, Susan Walsh.

And the officers were
President—Mike Mesrobian, Veep—John Ramaska, Treasurer—Janice Sawyer, Secretary—Elaine Shubert, Publicity Chairman—Jane Criticos.

On the stadium green the cadets were seen.
And at Field Day these were the most elite:
Chuck Habeeb, Jim Hurley, and Dick Nault
Man thy sure had talented feet!

Finals were taken and reports cards out
Don't cha know the year was ended.
When we returned we would be seniors
But now the surf boards were being mended.

And now there came September and school
And we grew wonderous bold.
For we were seniors—the leaders of the pack
And the underclassmen did what they were told!

Ballots were here, ballots were there
Election time was around
We crackled and growled, and roared and howled
And finally picked this crowd:
President—Alan Shafer, Vice President—John Ramaska, Secretary—Rosalie Giordano, Treasurer—Paula Goldblatt.

"See, See!" we cried. "We've picked six more Hither to take the wheel"
We elected the Student Council members:
Pat Langevin—President, Judy Ingalls—Secretary, Jackie Guilmet—Treasurer, Charleah Martin, Joe Sapienza, and Ann Findeisen
They steadied us with upright keel.

God save thee, honored Yearbook Staff
From the deadlines that plague thee thus.
Candy Nassar, our hardworking Editor, Led Cynthia Alekel, Joyce Beeley, Norman Cook, Dick Dyer, Ray Faeber, Ann Findeisen, Paula Goldblatt, Kathy House, Nelda Krukonis, Judy Ingalls, Charleah, Martin, Mike Mesrobian, and Marilyn Tulley
Who worked without much fuss.

Alas! ( thought we) and we were very proud
To see how much she tried
Arlene Blotner is editor of the Blue and White.
Through her efforts, it still hasn't died.

A speck, a mist, a shape we wist!
And still it neared and neared;
The boys dodged in their spikes
As the football tacked and veered.

They looked to heaven and began to pray
Al Shafer, Ken Kuzmitski, and Carl Nicolosi captained this motley crew.
But a rousing cheer came and made
The Ranger football team win a few.

The Football Queen paced onto the field
Followed by her attendants was she.
It was Charleah Martin, Joyce Healey, and Susan Blood.
They were a lovely three.

Higher and higher every year
The cheerleaders did jump
Karen Jones captained Barbara Blouin, Cherly Wade, Elaine Laflamme, Nelda Krukonis, Joyce Gilbert, Julie McKenzie, Gayle Ciras, Gail Policella, Judy Rozzi. Diane Abesamra, Maureen Beshara, Susan Turmel, and Ann Findeisen

While the majorettes marched—
Thump, thump, thump!!
Judy Ingalls captained Pat LaFrance, Nancy Lanctot, Rhonda Fleming, Joan Earnshaw, Norma Slack, Marie Connors, Joanne Pearson, Jeanne Beshara, and Jane Donovan

These players ran about while the sun was hot and high
Roddy Hodge was captain of our cross-country team
And Judy Mlechko was captain of the field hockey team
These boys and girls really gave it a good try.

Four times fifty Tenney Cadets
Assembled at the Cadet Hop.
The officers were Colonel—Chuck Habeeb, Lt. Colonel—John Ramaska, Adg. Major—Joe LeClair, Drill Major—Roddy Hodge, and Drum Major—Pat Costa.
These were the cream of the crop.

Her lips were red, her eyes were sparkling.
Her locks were black as night.
Pat Langevin was our Cadet Queen
With Vicki Crawford to her left
And Gina Amiss to her right.

Home Sweet Homicide was our Senior Play
Ann Findeisen, Vicki Crawford, Barbara Blouin, Bob Sedgwick, and Ken Auclair were the leads
And Mrs. Hovanashian, Judy Ingalls, and Jay Cuticchia directed without pay!

We praise thee, Miss Alekel
Though we fear thy skinny strap.
Thou did act your part very well
When that strap did snap.

The ball dipped in and then rushed out.
With long strides the players came
They were captained by Bob Orlando, Jay Hamilton, Sheila Radulski, and Judy Mlechko.
And our basketball teams gained much fame.

The many girls so beautiful
At the Military Ball did sigh.
And a thousand, thousand Wednesday warriors
Marched on and passed them by.

One after one came the star-studded acts
As Ken Auclair introduced them that night.
At the Talent Show the senior boys and girls
Were really and ineffable sight!

Beyond the shadow of the school
To the annual Student Government Day
As a senator Judy Ingalls went.
Of the commonwealth we wondered what she had to say.

To four worthy students
Special honors were given:
Ovide Brudo, Norman Cook, and Judy Collins became Honor Society bound
And Joe LeClair to Lt. Colonel was risen.

In the spring there were three teams:
Baseball, softball, and track.
Dan (Bear) Donahue and Susan Walsh captained the first two
And in skill they did not lack.

The senior boys at first in Parrot's car did ride,
Then a pawing Black horse let go,
She made a chug-a-lugging bound,
It flung the blood into their heads
And down they fell in a swound!!

Oh, when announced we clapped our hands
The class King and Queen were these:
Carl Nicolosi and Pat Langevin
Us they surely did please.

The Viennese Palace doors were opened wide
And through them we went in.
The dates are met, the Prom is set
And the dancing only cost a fin.

She holds him with her glittering eye
Her admiring date stood still
And listens like a three years' child
Auf Wiedersehn was certainly a thrill.

All stood together on the stage
For graduation honors:
Valedictorian—Elaine Shubert, Salutatorian—Judith Ingalls,
Honor Essayist—Arlene Blotner, and Class Day Orator—Pat DePetrillo.
At studies these girls cut no corners.

We go like those who before have gone
And in a sense forlorn.
Sadder, but, oh, much wiser.
We rise and face the morrow morn.

Class Prophecy

By Mark Eaton and Mike Mesrobian
Scene: London, 1980

MM—Oh, there you are. You were terrific on the stage tonight. There hasn't been a Hamlet since ...

ME—Richard Burton. I know. Thank you for reminding me.

MM—Aren't you even going to say hello?

ME—I can't. I just read an article saying that all geniuses tend to be snobbish, and I don't want to contradict our public image. It's nice to see you though ... (overdue recognition) Mike! How are you? Why didn't you tell me? How have you been?

MM—If you let me get over to the script, I may tell you.

ME—Oh, this business is a bore. After you've died twenty times, even that gets rather dull. When I finally die, for real, I think I shall be intensely uninterested in the fact. Also, I miss Methuen.

MM—Do you get to go back there much?

ME—No, hardly at all. I still subscribe to the Tribune, though . . . it's the only paper I can find that publishes "Morty Meekle" ... so I know a lot of what's going on.

MM—Like what?

ME—Well, let's see. I've noticed in the society pages that many of our class mates have snared handsome and prosperous husbands. (They've overlooked me so far, but they have found quite a few good ones.) I understand that BARBARA SHEARER, JOANNE SIMILI, JACKI SIMONE, DONNA WEINHOLD, PAT ZAPPALA, KATHY O'BRIEN, BARBARA BEVIN, PAT LAMBERT MAUREEN PELLERIN, LINDA JAWORSKI, REV JORDAN, BARBARA FORBES, JUDY FAY, KAREN CATTEAU, AND PEGGY TORLA are all particularly well-married. I just happen to remember offhand.

MM—Whatever happened to PAUL BURKE? Did he remain a "solemn bachelor" as he vowed?

ME—Married. Several children. But he can afford it: he's a millionaire.

MM—Millionaire!?! Paul Burke!?!

ME—Oh, yes. He invented a breakfast cereal called "Jerry Cruncher." (It comes in a special box called the Sydney Carton, designed by TONI GOUJON. Horrible taste!

MM—Then how does it sell?

ME—Good slogans: JANE CRITICOS is in charge of publicity. Surely you've heard of "Jerry Cruncher." Remember the contest "free trip to the Riviera"? That went over big. PETE HAYHOW thought of that.

MM—Oh, yes. I remember. Who won?

ME—CAROL HOLT. It's quite a prominent corporation Paul has. JUDY SHAIA, NORMA SLACK, and JOAN NAPOLI are on the board of directors, DAN R. DONAHUE is the official taster. Three other millionaires are JOHN PARIS GERALD WOODWARD, and JOE ANGELARI. Joe says he just woke up one morning and found he was rich. Since then there have been fantastic amounts of money offered for his bed, his pajamas, and his pillowcase, but it seems there was more to it than nocturnal magic.

MM—What happened to JOHN RAMASKA?

ME—He's a doctor now, to the great delight of PAUL GERVAIS, who is an undertaker, and to the great delight of RONNIE PEGLOW, who makes caskets. What else do I know? JOYCE EARNSHAW is a nurse, as are JANE DONOVAN, LINDA NORMAND, JOANNE PEARSON, BETTY GETCHELL, JEAN FOELY, MAUREEN FERRIS, SHEILA FENTON, AND DONAN BELANGER. Donna is a practical nurse—the rest are rather frivolous. JIM COONEY is barber. NANCY SMITH, SHARON POTVIN, CHERYL WARING, PAULINE MARQUIS, DONNA MARTINEAU, DONNA MILIUS, JEAN MILLER, LINDA NIMMO, TRISHA KENNEY, MADELEINE LALUMIERE, JUDIE BLAIS, PAT HAIGH, and NANCY FITZMAURICE are all beauticians. I just happen to know that offhand.

MM—If nothing else, Methuen must be dandruff-free.

ME—JIM WAGNER is involved in a bit of a controversy, I understand. It seems he claims to have written an operetta called "The Barber of Algiers." Others claim Paul McCartney wrote it for the Beatles to perform. But let's face it, it's difficult to imagine Paul having more than the least possible experience with barbers, so I think Jim is fairly safe.

MM—I heard that RODDY HODGE has quite a reputation in intellectual circles now. He wrote an essay on, er, "dialectical materialism." Nobody knows where he ever heard of it, but he's an authority on it now. Even THEODORE T. ZAKIA, the noted government theorist, marvels at it.

ME—Indeed.

MM—And, of course, you must have heard about FRANK SERPINA'S success in television.

ME—I never read theater news.

MM—Oh. I was reading it in Variety just today. Two years ago he became the twenty-third person to host that midnight variety show nobody used to watch. Now it has the highest ratings in America. Teachers and students alike are now falling asleep in the classroom, and labor unions are pressing that no one be forced to get up and go to work before 10 a.m. so people can enjoy the show. Parents don't have to worry any longer about their daughters not returning home from a date by midnight; now she rushes in at 11 in order not to miss the show. That is the show in which both JOE DIZAZZO and JOE SOUCY, apparently two of the hottest recording stars of the decade, made their spectacular debuts. It was there that BILL BLOUIN really established his reputation as the greatest thing since Soupy Sales (or so the paper said). Now even CHERYLLE ACKROYD is persuaded to sing on the show. And the interviews they have are supposed to be fascinating; they've had RUSSELL COOLIDGE . . .

ME—Wasn't he a President?

MM—No, no, no, no, no. He was the astronaut who took a wrong turn on his flight to Mars and discovered a tenth planet; he hasn't been able to return yet, but they sent messages back and forth. And they had SHERRI PATRICK, the German scholar who found an exception that doesn't have a rule; and JANICE SAWYER, the Nobel prize-winning chemist who recently regained the attention and admiration of the world by discovering a fantastic new way to prepare chicken-asparagus casserole.

ME—I knew she'd make good. As best I can figure it, about thirty of our graduates are secretaries. MARIE CARTA, JUDY JASKOT, and NANCY MATTHES are legal secretaries; the rest are rather shady. There's BEV CAMPOLINI, NANCY KAELIN, LINDA McGONIGLE, PAULINE TALBOT, STELLA ROGELIS,—they're medical secretaries—and PATRICIA COTE, LOUISE COLTRARO, JOANNE KITSAN, SUSAN JURDI, JUDY VIGLIONE, SUSAN TURMEL, LINDA DIAZ, KATHY GARRIGAN, ANN MARIE GIOSEFFI, LINDA HEBSCH, ANN NOVELLO, BARBARA NANNIS, MARY MURPHY, ELAINE MONFET, BRENDA MALBON, SUSAN WOODCOCK, CAROL ANN WARING, and TERRY SOUCY.

MM—You just happen to know that offhand.

ME—Yes. And, if course that's not including MICHAEL TORBIN, who is the Secretary of State. Now don't stop me—I'm just getting warmed up. For accountants there are KEN FOSTER, JOSEPH KUS, DENNIS TORRISI, and BILL RICKARD; also JUDY MLECHKO, ALICE SMITH, CLAIRE McCARTHY, GAIL PICKLES, JEAN ZANFAGNA, and JUDY ROZZI. What else? Oh, yes. DAVID GORDON, EDDIE SARFDIE, KEN BOGANNAN, BOB McCRACKEN, and BILL DOOLEY have all gone into engineering; Dave is said to be the only civil engineer—I guess that means he's more polite than the others. WARD HASTINGS, MIKE GUSTARTIS, LARRY GUNNING, NORMAN COOK, DAN NELSON, and KENNY AUCLAIR are all foresters.

MM—In the same area?

ME—I'm afraid so. You can't see the trees for the foresters. BILL TOOMEY is an astronomer. PHYLLIS STOKER has gone into banking. Jack Milnes is a disc jockey in the fine tradition of "Wacky Jacky" and "juicy Ruccy." LINDA FELDMAN is teaching kindergarten. RONNIE HAMEL, RON LaPLANTE, JIM PARE, and ROLLO PELLETIER have gone into the armed services. (Fascinating, isn't it?) AL DEMERS is making his living with cards—birthday, Christmas, get-well; he sells them. JIM ELIAS is running a jewelry store. His, of course, was the first place John robbed.

MM—John?

ME—LITTLE JOHNNY JONES (just so high). I

I. Fictional character created by Mr. Goebel for the sake of illustration.

ME—But surely you've heard. He discovered that Mr. Goebel had established by syllogistic reasoning that he was a juvenile delinquent. He felt he couldn't live down the reputation, so he gave himself up to a life of crime. It was terrible. He robbed CHERYL BOWER's pharmacy, WAYNE WILSON's variety store, BOB TAPLIN's furniture store, ELLY JACKLIN's bakery, GARRY MILL's joke shop, MITCH DYEAK's used car lot, ELAINE BALCIUS's travel agency, JOE RAPAZZO's barber shop, and CAROL MALIGNAGGI's laundromat.

MM—Shocking.

ME—He almost put JOE VELLARDITA's drug store out of business by clearing out all the movie magazines and James Bond books.

MM—Atrocious.

ME—He robbed DON ALLARD's bicycle shop, WALLY FEUGILL's insurance company, TONY TARQUINIO's hardware store, WINNIE EDWARD's floral shop, JIM HURLEY's department store, LOUISE WORTHINGTON's ice cream parlor, EDDIE WLODYKA's lumber yard, JUDY EDWARDS's cafe, DICK LAW's shoe store, VIC JUBINVILLE's service station, DICK KISIEL's music shop, JOE MITCHELL's dairy, RHONDA FLEMING's dress shop, JOHN FARO's real estate office, EDDIE KUPIEC's auto repair shop, FRED PATRALIA's bus company, RON SARAO's garage, and the THOMAS P. COYLE Fidelity Fiduciary Bank.

MM—Despicable.

ME—He swiped DIANE DIODATI's Mustang convertible.

MM—Deplorable.

ME—He drew moustaches on Senator JOSEPH LeCLAIR's campaign posters.

MM—Contemptible.

ME—Worst of all, he plagiarized some of NELDA KRUKONIS's poetry.

MM—For shame!

ME—Then one night he broke into Tenney High School and really caused havoc. He entered CAROL DeLUCCA's American History classroom and rewrote the grade book.

MM—Shocking.

ME—You're repeating yourself. Then he went into JOHN MICHAUD's orchestra room and switched around all the manuscripts, so that next day when John passed out the sheets and began to conduct, the violins started in mildly on the Peer Gynt Suite while the trumpets were going strong on King of the Road.

MM—How fiendish!

ME—He did practically the thing at Larry Dube's record shop. He switched all the labels on the records. Which, by the way, is the only reason JOE IACI was listening to a Tchaikovsky concerto a few days later.

MM—Egregious.

ME—That's a good word. He cleaned all the erasers in IRENE LEVER's mathematics classroom, so when she rolled down the pattern to make the graphs on the board, she couldn't work up any dust. It so unnerved her she almost didn't give homework. Almost.

MM—Unspeakable.

ME—Then he invaded CARL WINTERS's English classroom and destroyed all the MANTER HALL books.

MM—Well, he couldn't be all bad.

ME—Then he went to the main office and really raised ... caused trouble. You know how they have four very efficient secretaries there—JEANNE BESHARA, MARY ANN GROSSER, KATHY HOUSE, and CAROL EL-WARD. He repositioned all the keys on their typewriters. Next day they typed the most atrocious things! Well, by this time the principal, JIM SCIONE, was practically in tears, and the vice-principal, TOM MEYER, was so upset he almost gave Miss Lever detention for walking in the corridors without a pass. All the faculty were upset. The driver-ed teacher, BOB DESROCHERS, was picked up for inattentive driving. The gym teachers, DICK SAVASTANO, and PAT MOTTRAM, were so confused they forgot to send their classes to the showers; the students were so confused they took showers anyway. PAT GARVEY, the dean of girls, was on the verge of a nervous breakdown. She decided she needed help. She wrote to LEE DENNISON, the advice columnist, who suggested, as usual, that she should see a reliable psychiatrist. So Miss Garvey asked a couple of the teachers CHERYL WADE and SHIRLEY SIMOES, if they knew a really good "headshrinker, if you know what I mean." They both recommended BOB SAMPERI, so she went to him in great confidence! but when he began to show her his collection of heads, she ran screaming from the house and hasn't been seen since. ESTHER EDDY replaced her on the faculty. Of course, word of all these happenings passed immediately to the school committee—that is, RONNIE McCRACKEN, BOB STANLEY, GEORGE MINGINS, DAVID WALKER, ALAN KIRKMAN, TIM CASEY and PATRICK COSTA—who were appropriately indignant for eight minutes, recommended a relentless search for the culprit, and passed on to their next item of business. The crisis called for action from the capable board of selectmen; that is, ALAN SHAFER, JOE SAPIENZA, and TOM GRAHAM. So they wired the President and asked that Methuen be declared a disaster area. Johnny Jones was immediately placed on the list of Most Wanted Criminals by the revered chief of the F.B.I. himself J (AMES) ROBERT WILSON. Johnny decided the wisest thing to do would be to skip off by plane to San Francisco. But he had obviously not known he must encounter those two fearless stewardesses of the air, TERRI DONAHUE and VICKI CRAWFORD. They recognized him immediately and went breathlessly to the pilot, CARL NICOLOSI, who radioed the police and turned the plane back to Boston, because, as he put it, "the capture of the fiak means nothing to me, but I hate to see you two without your charming smiles." As Johnny tried to flee the plane, he was met by two policemen, KINGSLEY LOUGH and DAN A. DONAHUE. He broke into a run and dashed into a deserted building nearby. That was his mistake, for he did not realize that the construction of that very building had been supervised by those two (thank heaven!) incomparable architects TOM DILELLO and JOE LAORENZA. So, of course, as he slammed the door, the whole building collapsed. JIM BROWN directed his funeral. ELAINE SCHUBERT of the United Press International was the first journalist of any note to get hold of the story, and she won a Pulitzer Prize for her reporting. Also, JUDY COLLINS wrote a book about Johnny which got a very favorable review in PATRICIA DePETRILLO's column of the New York Times. ARLENE BLOTNER is preparing a lengthy but rather good poem along the lines of "John Jones' body lies a-mouldering in the grave." Several of our classmates can be found at the Indianapolis Speedway. REID MILLER is a sportscaster there; BOB LARUA and PHIL SZELIGA are drivers! and DAVE RODGERS, ART CAHALANE, and DAN HAIGH are mechanics. RICHY FARO is a jockey at Rockingham. PAUL PAYSON and BOB HARDACRE are Registry officers and JERRY POTVIN runs a Turkish Bath. JANE DENNIS married our ambassador to some unpronounceable country or other. And a lot of our graduates—especially the girls—have served in the Peace Corps: people like CATHY DAWSON, DIANE WALKER, JUDI WINDLE, SUSAN WALSH, MARY DEVINE, CANDY NASSAR—poor Candy, who disappeared somewhere in the Middle Pacific and was never heard from again. A lot of people wanted PRESIDENT DYER TO ...

MM—Dyer? You don't mean ...

ME—Of course, DICK DYER.

MM—Not our ...

ME—Of course. Where have you been?

MM—(reflectively) I knew his name was Dyer, but I never thought ... (pause) ... Anyway, I'm glad you mentioned Candy.

ME—I'm not. I haven't eaten in three hours, and the very word makes me ...

MM—No, no. Candy Nassar. I know what happened to her. That's why I came here.

ME—I know. She's been kidnapped by agents of THRUSH, and you're looking for the MAN from UNCLE.

MM—Oh, do be quiet. I came here to find you.

ME—So what happened to her?

MM—Let me start at the beginning. In the balmy tropics of the Pacific Ocean, just southwest of our state of Hawaii, lies a small island. It was discovered early in 1975 by three sailors, ADMIRAL ERNEST ROY, CAPTAIN LEONARD BRIGGS, and FIRST MATE ROBERT BARR, who had been set adrift by mutineers. They then paddled across the lagoon to where Candy was living. Now Candy has always had dreams of forming a master race, and what more perfect specimen is there to start with than the Tenney graduate? So the four of them got together and quietly began spreading the word among their Class of 1965 that there was a jazzy little island in the Pacific that they had discovered and were calling TROPITOPIA. The select group of Tropitopians gradually increased so that now there are about 100 graduates living on the island. The artistic styling of the homes they built was typically-tropical air conditioned grass huts planned by such noted designers as DICK DeSIMONE, CRAIG HEMAN, STAN BOROWY, and BOB HENLEY. Meanwhile three of the world's most noted architects JOHN BERGERON, PAUL SHAHEEN, and BOB NORRIS, collaborated and planned the fantastic layout for the capital, Mauii. The styling of the city is outstanding for its graceful lines of simplicity, and the whole thing looks very tropical. All the landseaping for the buildings there was done by BOB ORLANDO and JAY CUTICCHIA. Plenty of time and money is spent on recreational facilities, and they're being remodernized all the time. Helping with task are TOM CARON, DICK NAULT, FRED BEELEY, DICK LATTINVILLE, DICK LOMBARDO, DICK ST. ONGE, and MIKE ST. LAURENT. Transportation to and from the modern capital is the responsibility of the Tropitopian Department of Transportation, better known as the "T.D.T." This organization has as its leaders giants of the world of high finance and business. The chairman of the board is none other than PHILIP McKINNIS. His officers, a select group of people meeting the strictest requirements only Phil could set up, are JAQUELINE GUILMET, NANCY HENDERSON, GAIL POLICELLA, DIANE ABESAMRA, and ROSE JABOUR. In the bustling Mauii, one can see the many beautiful stores and exclusive shops bordering the streets. Among them are a boutique owned by the partners PATRICIA LaFRANCE, JANET VALCOURT, and MARYLIN TULLEY; a leather goods shop proprietored by NANCY LANCTOT, VIRGINIA AMISS, and DIANA BROWN; and the most luxurious womens' apparel store on the world, J. LUCY. On JOAN's staff of personally trained models are ALICE CALLAHAN, CARLOTTA CATALANO, LINDA CONNORS, JOAN EARNSHAW, and LINDA CULLEY. On the other side of town resides J. J. SABBAGH, HABERDASHER EXCLUSIVE. JOHN's staff of office workers shows careful selection: GAIL KOCZAT, SANDRA MARNIERO, SHEILA O'CONNELL, JILL PORTER, and MAUREEN BESHARA. One of john's subsidiary companies, SHAMBERGER-SEDGEWICK, INC., reigning textile manufacturers of Tropitopia, has been partly responsible for the wide selection of patterns and radical, tasteful style so indicative of his merchandise. Also located in the city of Mauii are the offices of BRUDO SEMICONDUCTOR AND THERMOCONTROLS, founded by the famed mathematics genius OVIDE BRUDO. Under the supervision of Ovy are automatic engineers FRANK FICHERA and RAYMOND FAERBER, electronics engineers ORLANDO SALAZAR and BERNIE HADLEY, and industrial engineers ALLEN RUDIS and HARRY SIMPSON. The most recent contract of the corporation is with CHUCK HABEEB's crew of civilized civil engineers WILLIAM RILEY, JIM EATON, and JOE SIFFERLEN. Chuck's designed an undersea tunnel to the nearby Hawaii, and he needs some automatic devices in the tunnel to keep the drivers' speed under 120 miles an hour! JOHN NAULT is one of Chuck's apprentices. His job now is to change the light bulbs in the fixtures inside the tunnel: he holds the bulb while CARM MARTINESE turns the ladder he's standing on.

ME—Are there any night-clubs!?!

MM—One of the many exciting activities in Mauii is the nightly entertainment by the heavenly-voiced KATHY MICHAUD. JOYCE HALDANE, having recovered her voice, has become a familiar sight in the dress shops as the evening announcer of fashions. DON MORLEY, BOB PERRAULT, and BOB MONETTE have been given an associate degree in physics. They've opened a night school for others like themselves who can't seem to associate physics with anything. Just on the outskirts of Mauii JEFF BRINK has founded a brand new Judo School. He still teaches the girls how to defend themselves in case of advances made by unruly native boys ...

ME—like Jeff Brink!?!

MM—Uh-huh. In suburbia life is quite different: It is not unusual to see KATHY McROBBIE performing the daily ritual of putting out fifteen little "ashes" every morning. CHARLIE MESSINA has opened a Cordon Bleu restaurant that specializes in foreign delicacies. JOYCE GILBERT and JOYCE HEALEY are the attractive hostesses and RONNIE CONDON and AL DEBURRO are busy in the Kalakalua Lounge ...

ME—Lounge?? Doing what?

MM—The tropitopian newspaper, Pineapple Press, is edited by SUSAN YOUNG. Under the management of JOYCE BEELEY are roving reporters ELAINE LaFLAMME, CHARLOTTE KATEN, AND SANDRA VIGNAULT, who cover the local news, sports, latest advancements, and gossip. Latest bulletin has it the BOB CUSCIA'S PLAYBOY CLUB has formed its own set by-laws, constitution and canon. There is no need for a large hospital in Tropitopia because the island is absolutely free from disease. However, ALAN GRAICHEN takes care of any of the many unforseen events which may occur on Tropitopia. His staff of nurses includes: KATHY BUNCE, ANN CROCKER, RONNIE MARTINEAU, and ELAINE LEMIEUX. DOUG HALLBAUER has a thriving dental profession going: JUDY INGALLS and GERRY RICKLEY are his pretty assistants.

One of Tropitopia's largest industries is the world of its beaches. The entire island is surrounded by the most pleasant palm-studded coastline. Reigning over this dream world is the Coconut Queen KAREN JONES with her attendants CHARLEAH MARTIN and PAT LANGEVIN, the Pineapple Princesses. ANN FINDEISEN has opened an exclusive resort area on the beach where she conducts the Tropitopian Aqua-ballet School, a culture unique to our island. Pro-surfer DAVE WEIDLICH and his crew of birds TOM BRYANT, JOHN RUDIS, DAN GROLEAU, MARTY GARABEDIAN, and BILL BUKA, can be seen most often socializing with the beach girls. BARBARA BLOUIN and CHRIS AKSCYM have a profitable little business teaching the newcomers the native dances on the beach. PAULA GOLDBLATT, SUE BLOOD, and CINDY ALEKEL have a novel enterprise—a boarding house for delinquent surfer-birds.

KEN KUZMITSKI, BUDDY WALTON, and BILL COYLE are always busy training the Tropitopian Surfing Team for the International Olympics, With team members SHEILA RADULSKI, ROSE GIORDANO, and BARBARA HEBERT, we expect to come back with a world's championship. BEV EATON and JOY DAVIS are the professional masseuses for the poor, sore team members who are worked-out every day. STEVE BESHARA gives moral support.

JOHN COCO, noted marine biologist, is always observed seeking new specimens for his large museum. Also looking for specimens, but of a different nature, is ED MICHAUD, pearl diver. Once a week on every beach there must ba a luau and no luau can be successful with out a good poi-maker. PETER BASHKOIAN has gained a reputation all over the island for his skill in making every party a success—no better poi is to be found anywhere. HARLAN BRIGGS and RICHARD ASMEGA help to plan the programs of the weekly luaus.

ME—With all the fun and game, when do the kids get a "school-type" education?

MM—Extensive education is an essential part of the Tropitopian society. JULIE McKENZIE is superintendent of the school system and GAIL CIRAS is the chairwoman of the school board. Among the qualified and dedicated teachers in this excellent system are PHYLLIS CHIARENZA, JAY HAMILTON, MARGO MERANIAN, KATHY SCIACCA, KAREN TARDUGNO, and JO-ELLEN MILLINAZZO. BOB RICCIO, DAVID PLATT, and DENNIS LESCARBEAU are the representatives of the Tropitopian educational methods in the United States.

HERB WAITHE is operating IBM Machines to schedule the arrivals and departures of the luxury liners of the JOANNE LAUDANI Steamship lines. Herb also does JANICE LEE KOEHLER a favor every day by asking the computor which colored clothes match well for her.

Anyway, this is what I've been leading up to: Life in Tropitopia is everything anyone could dream for. Why don't you come on down?

ME—Mmm-mm-m ... I like that idea. Just think, I could Bring Shakespeare to the South Seas ... Hamlet, Othello, Coriolanus, Macbeth

MM—Oh!! (hurriedly) Well, of course, there are some things I'd better warn you about. We aren't entirely free of disease, and it rains every third day, and ...

ME—No, No, You've convinced me. Just let me go back to the hotel and pack a few things, and I'll be right with you.

MM—. . . the traffic problem is beginning to become unmanageable, and . . .

FINIS

Class Will

by Jeanne Beshara and Raymond Faerber

Be it remembered that we, the class of 1965 of Tenney Memorial High School, Methuen, Massachusetts, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, but knowing the uncertainty of this life and being most fully aware that we are leaving those classic halls forever, do hereby make public and decree this to be our last will and testament.

I, Cheryl Bower, leave Mr. Rimas a long-playing sports movie so he may entertain his next homeroom during activity period.

I, Louise Coltraro, leave all my bazooka bubble gum and best wishes to my home-room teacher, Miss Ruth Lange.

I, Barbara Shearer, leave "the mouse" in my locker to the next senior who will have it.

I, Joanne Simili, leave my seam ripper to some girl who will be taking Home Economics next year in hopes she won't make as many mistakes as I did.

I, Judy Edwards, leave to Janet Laurie the job of finding Mr. Melia's letteriog brush.

I, Gail Koczat, leave my black cat and broomstick to Mr. Fradette to depress him on sunny days.

I, Kathleen Micbaud, leave to Mrs. Morgan rubber covers to put on the bottom of her screeching chairs.

I, Pat Haigh, leave to Mal Fielding all my unused passes.

I, Ann Marie Gioseffi, leave all my broken mirrors in the circular file (waste basket).

I, Jill Porter, leave my metal cage, better known as a locker, to any junior that can be forced in as I was.

I, Joyce Haldane, leave my non-existing voice to some loud-mouth junior.

I, Joanne Pearson, leave to Judy Lippold all the fun I have had during high school.

I, Linda Nimmo, leave the wonderful school lunches.

I, Esther Eddy, leave my giggle to Mr. Ruston.

I, Marie Carta, leave to Mr. Jones all the talks we have shared.

I, Judy Jaskot, leave Mrs. Morgan all the jokes we have shared.

I, Phyllis Stoker, leave to Miss Ruth Lange my long-used duplicatiag machine.

We, Joanne Kitsos, Beverly Jordan, Carol DeLucca, and Jane Dennis, leave Mr. Rushton $100 worth of newspapers for his everyday use.

We, Barbara Blouin, Karen Jones, and Judy Iagalls, leave to any junior trio all the fun and exciting times we have had duriag our senior year.

I, Jo-Ellen Milinazzo, leave to Kathy O'Connell the rest of my yellow spray paint to be used as best she knows how.

I, John Michaud, leave to Mrs. Locaby one worn plane-o-graph.

O, Tom Meyers, leave to Miss Zannini all my iak splattered biology notes.

I, Paula Goldblatt, leave to Mary Pritchard the balance of $81.97 and a few unpaid bills with which to use up the money.

I, Rosalie Giordaao, leave to the next year's senior class secretary one slightly doodled-on notebook.

I, Stella Rogelis, leave to Tenney High one brother and one sister.

We, the Yearbook Staff of 1965, leave to the Torch Staff of 1966 one air-coaditioned Yearbook office complete with IBM computer, shapely secretaries, aad a year's supply of goof balls.

I, Mary Aan Grosser, leave my funny bone to Janet Wagner aad my fickle disposition to Nancy Russell.

I, Cyathia Alekel, leave to aext year's Class actress one large sure-to-do-the-trick safety pin with hopes that she has better luck than I did in securiag her straps.

I, Cherylle Ackroyd, leave to the girls oa my luach table the right to eat all their lunch without giving any to scrounging friends.

I, Christine Akscyn, leave to Tenney High my brother Paul in hopes it can do more with him than I could.

I, Marilyn Tulley, leave a cluster of scrap paper to Mr. Jennings who made everyone in our homeroom pick them up off the floor.

I, Veronica Martineau, leave to the most deserving girl the title of "most absent-minded."

I, Phil McKinnis, leave to Mrs. Monroe a life-time supply of cartridges for her ink pen.

I, Candy Nassar, leave to the Torch editor of 1966 the book entitled, "How To Understand Your Boss."

I, Rick Faro, leave to Mr. Rusbton one package of salem cigarettes.

I, Robert Samperi, leave an untouchable record of 264 no dates.

I, James Eaton, leave my signature in all the library books I took out.

I, Michael Mesrobian, leave to my understanding friend, W. Earl Lister, one ball of "Silly putty" in the hope that he will do a better job of bouncing it around his office than I did.

I, Slukey Graham, leave all my wild ties to any junior boy crazy enough to wear them.

I, Tom Bryant, leave five feet of brake rubber from my rompin', stompin' scooter to Jack Harnish and Katherine Cantillion.

I, Alan Shafer, leave to Jon McQuillan all the football equipment he can swipe from under Mr. McDermott's nose.

I, Frank Fichera, leave to the junior girls my fun-lovin' thing called Willie.

I, John Nault, leave a trunkload of unmentionables for next year's ski trip and please leave your skiis at home.

I, Froggy, leave "four flat tire" prediction to my beloved physics teacher in memoriam of the unscrupulously unjust 3 day assignment to study hall land.

I, John Ramaska, leave one dilapidated physics book full of unsolved problems to some illustrious physics student.

We, the senior members of the track team, leave one gross of cigarette butts and one can opener to the junior members.

I, Jo LeClair, leave to Phil Sparta one shady tree at the Neil Playstead to be sat beneath during track practice in June.

We, the senior members of the varsity basketball team, Bob, Jay, Dick, Bill, Tom, and Herb, leave Mrs. Edson a new lock for her ice cream chest to keep Scott Blaney and his marauding juniors out.

I, Ken Kuzmitski, leave to Paul Acksyn a pair of binoculars to keep an eye on his sister while I'm in New York.

We, Mary Murphy and Elaine Monfete, leave Mr. Rushton a stack of old newspapers to read during all Law classes.

We Jay Hamilton and Pete Hayhow, leave our two intellectual seats to two of next year's lucky pupils of Mr. Russell's fourth period chemistry class.

We, Diane Walker aad Carol Diodati, leave Robert Torbea our great chemistry minds with hopes that he will be as great a success aa we were.

We, Elaine Lemieux and Veronica Martineau, leave Mr. Pappalardo a "neat" locker, homeroom periods without French class aad an "organized" history class.

I, Charlotte Katen, leave to my sister Lynne my bottlecap collection.

I, Joyce Beeley, leave to my sister Dottie all the dangers of the so called safe game of volleyball.

We, the senior cheerleaders, leave to next year's squad all the hard practice, sore legs, and fun.

I, Sheila Radulski, leave Mr. Ralph my hillbilly hat to keep his head warm.

I, Judy Mlechko, leave to my baby sister, Carole, Miss Bailey.

We, Liada Diaz aad Pat Lambert, leave Diaae Kania a big hole to fill.

We, the seniors in Mr. Hagerty's math classes, leave him one year's subscription to Bride Magazine.

We, Martin Garabedian aad Danny Grollau, leave Miss Shermaa a free math course at "G & G's school of hardknocks."

I, Anne Crocker, leave to Al Gralchen, a deserving junior French udent, the privilege of arguing with Mr. Gagne each French period.

I, Rhonda Fleming, leave Pat Bardsley one pillow which was used by her dol.

I, Madeleine Lalumiere, leave my old blue gym suit to Jane Macaione.

I, Lioda Normand, leave one used and abused history book to Rick Laudani to struggle through by himself next year.

I, Nancy Lanctot, leave to any junior all my 48 words from the senior play, in hopes that the long hours of memorization spent on them will help to make the play a success.

I, John Sabbagh, leave Mr. Fradette my pin-up of Liz Taylor.

I, Maureen Beshara, leave two shriveled cheering poms to some future cheerleader.

We, the senior majorettes, leave to next year's squad nine pairs of crumpled-up marching boots.

I, Nancy Kaelin, leave a year's supply of coffee and doughnuts to Mr. Burke.

I, Joan Napoli, leave my nickname "Bubbles" to anyone who can live up to my reputation.

I, Carl Winters, leave Mr. Goeble's room quietly.

I, Pat Mottram, leave one of my most valuable possessions, my beautiful typing folder, to Mrs. Morgan.

I, Carol Elward, leave to any of miss Coulson's next year's classes all my business letters that I had to do over.

I, Nancy Rainville, leave Mr. Lister my Irish cousin Donna McDonald.

I, Barbara Forbes, leave Miss Coulson all my runny nylons that I have ruined on the chairs in her room.

I, Joan Lucy, leave Bob Whitaker three strands of genuine black hair to be painted white.

I, Judie Blais, leave the pleasure and all the fun to the person who gets elected to make the flowers for the Prom of '66.

I, Carol Malignaggi, leave Mr. Ziminski some glass beakers to replace the many I have broken while washing the boards for him.

I, Patricia Cote, leave my orange sneakers called "winger dingers" to Miss Bailey to give to the fastest runner.

I, Karen Catteau, leave my sister Melanie my empire waist dresses.

I, Terry Donahue, leave my brother to Charlotte Spinello.

I, Kathy O'Brien, leave one navy blue jacket with kelly green lining to Big Jim.

I, Lynda Feldman, leave a Webster's Dictionary to a deserving junior in one of Mr. McDermott's study classes.

I, Judy Collins, alias Jackie Summers, leave to the incoming seniors the right to have their own on-the-spot news correspondent.

We, Judy, Sandy, Pat, and Sandy, the Cadet secretaries, leave the confusion and frustration of the Cadet supply room to all future secretaries.

I, Alice Smith, leave a typewriter for "Little Toes" so she can be typing away at 1:45 every day.

I, Sandra Lee Vignault, leave to any deserving senior girl of '66 my position as secretary for Mr. Burke.

I, Barbara Bevin, leave Pat Bardsley all my A's in senior math.

I, Joyce Gilbert, leave to the most unsuspecting senior cheerleader one pair of soaking wet poms, one pound of cough drops, one tube of Ben Gay, and one book entitled, "How To Ruin A Cheering Squad In Ten Easy Lessons."

I, Diane Abesamra, leave to next year's cheerleaders all the fun and excitement of meeting new people and of cheering for Tenney High's great teams.

I, Gail Policella, leave Phil Sparta the opportunity to ask someone to his prom, and also the memories of the few great times we shared at Tenney.

We, Janice, Lindy, Carlotta, Alice, and Charlotte, leave Mr. McComisky a year's subscription to Mad Magazine.

I, Shirley Simoes, leave my brother Ronny the blackboard in room 220 equipped with water, pail, and sponge.

I, Margaret Meranian, leave all the paper in the school to Maryalice Peters, better known as "Pete," for her long notes.

I, Joy Davis, leave to Donna Bakios one more enjoyable year in our illustrious orchestra, that she may play the overture in good comfort and health.

I, Barbara Hebert, leave my brother Bobby and incoming sophomores all the fun and good times I have had with our terrific band on conclaves and field days.

We, Pete Hayhow and Carol Holt, leave all the teasing that we received from certain teachers to some deserving junior couple.

I, Susan Blood, leave my brother Bill my locker # 186 with a 60" pin-up of me inside.

I, Daniel A. Donahue, leave to next year's baseball captain my fine batting average of .176 and hope it will bring him as much happiness as I have had with it.

I, Cathy Dawson, leave to the Field Hockey team my position of left halfback to some lucky, fortunate person.

We, Jane Donovan and Linda Connors, leave our positions on the majorette squad to two capable underclassmen.

I, Barbara Nannis, leave one dozen eggs to some senior girl so that Mr. Fradette can bake her a walnut cake.

I, Diane Diodati, leave my cousin Susan Diodati, my place in front of the mirror in the second floor ladies' room.

I, Elaine Balcius, leave to the janitors all the crumpled straws Steve Beshara has artistically crushed.

I, Joan Earnshaw, leave all my milk bottles to Jimmy Fuller.

I, Maureen Ferris, leave Mr. McDermott and his moods to the juniors in period 3.

I, Daniel R. Donahue, leave to some deserving junior my brush so he will be able to take over my job at the garbage in the cafeteria.

I, Carmen Martincse, leave to Miss Zannini, the ability that I possess to become great.

I, Ken Bogannam, leave, after four long, hard years of English, Mr. Rimas.

I, Diana Brown, leave to Paula Pagleuso my pass lorging kit, equipped with poncil, eraser, passes, and a leather carrying case for her convenience.

I, Jacki Simone, leave my Italian nationality to some poor unfortunate Frenchman.

I, Vicki Crawford, leave to my brother Jimmy all the joys and hardships of being an "upperclassman."

Presented and witnessed this seventh day of June in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine-Hundred and Sixty-Five.
